Express hires primarily for manufacturing positions in a warehouse setting, doing assembly work, and material handling. They also have administrative and skilled trade positions available.

A few examples of great perks of working with Express are:

- Express offers an employee referral program. Currently, when an individual reports that they heard about Express from another current Express associate, the person who referred will receive $100!
- Express provides online education opportunities that anyone who is working with them will be able to utilize. All the programs are directly related to employment opportunities and while they are not comprehensive, they will service as an excellent introduction to the material. Programs offered include: Basic Blueprint Reading, Machinist (with CNC), Basic Electrical Training, Construction Technology/Laborer, Electrical Maintenance, Quality Control, Safety, HVAC, Soft Skills, Tool & Die, Warehousing & Distribution, and Welding.
